Dear Parents,

Your child has been learning about different types of jobs and income, like salaries, commissions, wages, and tips, as part of a financial education unit at school. Engage in a discussion: Have your child ask you the following questions and record your answers.

1. What was your first job?

2. How did you get paid for your job?

3. What did you do with the money you made from your job?

Now let’s talk about jobs I might be able to do now, and what I might want to be when I grow up!
